Scott Wilkinson – Corporate & Business Development

Scott Wilkinson has a strong track record as a financial executive, technologist and management consultant of conceiving and building innovative solutions for the Canadian retail financial services market.

Scott has researched and written extensively on Canadian financial topics including FinTech strategy, mortgage and mortgage insurance, broker deposits, pension and mass affluent wealth management and recently small bank competition policy. Recently he completed a thorough analysis on the 2017 Home Trust liquidity event – Canada’s first modern investor-confidence based crisis in modern history.

Scott's career spans banking IT, channel and product leadership roles, management consulting and IT sales executive roles. Scott has helped over 30 leading US, Canadian and UK financial brands such as AGF Funds Management, Progressive Insurance, MGIC, GE Capital, American Express, Office Max, Sony Canada, Charles Schwab, VISA, IBM, CIBC, RBC, IFDS, Temenos and currently RPM Technologies, A Broadridge Company.

As a result of these diverse experiences, Scott brings a pragmatic multi-discipline approach to strategic topics facing Canadian financial leaders and regulators.

Scott holds a BA from the University of Toronto and an MBA with Distinction (Ivey Scholar) from Richard Ivey School of Business at Western University. He is also President of Radius Child and Youth Services, an Ontario charity focused on abuse counselling services, and provides mentorship and advisory services to several emerging FinTech businesses.
