

Handika Handoko

Director, Product Management
Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc.

In Handika's role as Director, Product Management, Handika is responsible for building and executing a product roadmap as well as supporting the full software development life cycle of Broadridge's Dataphile. Dataphile is a comprehensive suite of real-time solutions for Canadian independent securities and mutual fund dealers.

Prior to joining Broadridge, Handika had worked as a Product Manager at National Bank Independent Network (NBIN) where he managed NBIN's members' portal (Compass) as well as strategic partnerships.

Handika holds a Computer Engineering degree from the University of British Columbia.